

A Recipe from Tennie

Chicken Curry

I first smelled the deliciousness of this dish in an oven in Paul White's kitchen and he gave me the Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall recipe. This recipe has become a staple in our house for the last five years - thanks Paul.

Ingredients

- | | |
|--|---|
| 2 heaped teaspoons cumin seeds | 1 large green chilli, roughly chopped |
| 2 heaped teaspoons coriander seeds | 1 thumb sized piece of ginger, roughly chopped |
| 1 heaped teaspoon fennel seeds | 3 tablespoons sunflower oil |
| 2 teaspoons ground turmeric | 6 chicken thighs weighing about 1.5kg, seasoned |
| 2 teaspoons ground fenugreek | 1 400g tin of tomatoes |
| 1 large onion, roughly chopped | 1 400 ml tin of coconut milk |
| 3 large garlic cloves, roughly chopped | |

Method

Toast the seeds in a frying pan for a minute or two. Grind the spices to a rough powder and mix with the turmeric and fenugreek.

Put the onion, garlic, chilli and ginger into a food processor and blitz to a coarse paste.

Heat some oil in a large frying pan and fry the chicken pieces in two batches to a good brown colour. Transfer to a large roasting dish, skin side up.

Reduce the heat under the frying pan and fry the spice mix; add the onion paste. Fry, stirring frequently for 5 minutes until the paste is soft.

Combine the tomatoes and coconut milk in the food processor and add to the frying pan. Bring to a simmer. Add salt and pepper and pour the sauce over the chicken pieces. Make sure all the chicken is covered but not too thickly.

Place in a preheated oven at 180 degrees for one hour or until the chicken is cooked through. Serve with rice or naan bread.

The look this summer is lots of dresses and definitely the boho, festival trend. Also scarves are in fashion. You can also rock the frozen style with fluid fabrics and sparkles. Ballet pumps are also very much in style and you can pair them with anything, but the style is a crop top with a mini skirt or a maxi dress. So no matter what your style is there is something for you, even a denim skirt as a dress!

Make-up tips and tricks

Matching foundation: match the shade to your neck rather than your cheek or wrist. You should do this because, if you match it to your face and your face isn't the same shade as the rest of your body, your face will stand out and look a bit silly.

If you do get the shade one shade darker then all you have to do is blend it in soooo well and blend it down your neck and try and make it look ok but if you can't, you can use it as a bronzer or contour. It's the same as one shade light but as a highlight.

Don't talk about religion or politics!

I am writing this just after the General Election. The result has been a shock to almost everyone. Our hope must be that all our politicians and the parties they represent will take time to pause and reflect.

There is a passage in one of Paul's letters in the New Testament which reads: 'I urge, then, first of all, that requests, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving be made for everyone - for kings and all those in authority, that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness. This is good, and pleases God our Saviour...' [1 Timothy 2:1-3]

I take this to mean that as Christians we should be praying for justice, truth, fairness, respect and integrity from our political leaders, not for a quiet, undisturbed life for ourselves. Jesus himself often disturbed people. He challenged the status quo. He was angered by the hypocrisy and complacency he saw in the religious leaders of his day. His call to his followers was to help establish a different kind of society, based on righteousness, justice, love and compassion. He called it the kingdom of God, but it was meant to be established here in the world.

Bishop Desmond Tutu once famously stated: "When people say that the Bible and politics don't mix, I ask them which Bible they are reading". The Jesus manifesto is a manifesto for change. A change of attitude, a changed way of life, a changed way of thinking, a changed way of looking at the world. If we are going to change society, we can't just leave it to the politicians! The changes we need to see won't come about through laws and Acts of Parliament. It is hearts, minds and lives that have to be changed. One by one, person by person. Caring for one another; helping those less fortunate than ourselves; loving our neighbours; giving and forgiving.

At RE:NEW we are trying to build that loving, caring community right here. If you are disillusioned with politics and society in general, why not give church a try? Come along on a Sunday morning and find out more. We'd love to see you! Together we can make a difference!

2015 Beer Festival

We are pleased to report that the 2015 Quy Beer Festival is being planned at The White Swan again this year.

The plan is once again to have a wide range of beers and ales, music and food. For information about the festival closer to the time visit the Perfect Pint website where the full list of beers is available.

<http://www.perfectpint.co.uk/beer-festival/4455/Quy-Beer-Festival>

The Beer Festival will open at 2:00pm on Friday 28th August and finish on Monday 31st of August. We are aiming to have around 30 beers and ciders available and we again have a range of beers to suit the widest range of tastes. As well as our standard and popular ales from local breweries we are adding a few from further afield. To the range of Adnams, Oakham, Woodfordes and St Austell we are adding Nethergate, Tring, Timothy Taylor and Lacons (which re-opened this year to great critical acclaim). We are hoping to have our local favourites including Moonshine, Crafty, Elgoods and Felstar. Based on their popularity through the year we will probably have Humpty Dumpty, Greenjack, and by special request Hopback and HSD should be making an appearance. We are looking at getting some very different beers in as well. Possibly Nobbys Plum Porter and Brodies Ales from London.

We have put a section on the website to allow you to see the ales and nominate one if you think it would be popular. There is also a section for volunteers, of course, and we could use additional help so please lend us a couple of your hours if you possibly can. We are also looking for music and band suggestions; we have some great ideas and bands coming along so we will update you on the website as the arrangements firm up, and again if you or any friends have any suggestions for music choices please let us know via the website.

Chef and his team are aiming to do a range of barbecue food including chicken, sausages, fries and vegetarian food. This year we are aiming to have "food for a day" This will include Specialist Sausage Rolls, Cornish Pasties, and Scotch Eggs all home made and we will serve them at the bar to go along with the ales and ciders. We would love to have Terry & Chrissy provide Pies and Pickles but we need to find a way of "persuading" them.

This year the chosen charity is The Castle School which is the special needs school in Cambridge of which Gerry is a governor.

We look forward to welcoming you at any time over the weekend, families and dogs are always welcome, of course.

Church News

Annual PCC meeting 15th April

This meeting was fairly well attended, although Rev Sue Giles was unable to come. The annual report had been circulated to all members on the church electoral roll, and at this meeting the new PCC committee was elected. We were sorry to lose Sarah McSpadden (who has moved away), but pleased to welcome back Colin Lowe.

Bill Watts was again volunteered to be church Warden, Viv Fleet was elected as PCC secretary, and Brian Thorby as PCC treasurer.

Easter Services

The 8.00am holy communion was led by Sue Giles to a small congregation, but in the church which was so beautifully decorated with flowers. Many thanks to all who donated Easter Lilies and to all the people who helped decorate the church for Easter.

Good Friday Open Air service

About 20 people from 5 churches within the Benefice joined in an open air service on Good Friday. Everyone assembled on the Green around the symbolic cross which had been erected there to celebrate Holy week.

Kitchen refurbishment & Children's area

Graham has now completed the work in the kitchen and it really does look stunning. Some of the ladies have repacked the new cupboards, and the older one in the Vestry. Also some of the pews which were in the area between the kitchen and the organ have been removed and stored elsewhere to make room for a children friendly area. A carpet has been found to put over the tile floor, a bookcase has been donated and children's books obtained. Small tables and chairs will be added as they become available.

The Flag from D.J. Walton.

In April we once more flew the Union Jack on our church to celebrate the Queen's real birthday, and St George's day. It will again be up to celebrate the Queen's official birthday in June. The flag was left to the Church by D. J Walton. Sadly D.J. died last year, having lived in our village for several years, where she was involved in many activities, including PCC secretary. We hope that her memory will come alive for many years when the flag is flying.

Clearing the churchyard

A good crowd of villagers turned up to help with clearing the churchyard. Paul Clarke had provided one of his massive trailers to take away the debris and, by the end of the morning, we were struggling to get all the greenery on. As well as a general clear up all round the churchyard, the giant Yew tree which overhung the cemetery was cut back, lime suckers removed from around each tree, & the ivy was cut off the base of all trees. The ladies had provided bacon butties and tea for the hungry workers, and Gerry Skews, from the Swan brought up some liquid refreshment. A big thank you to all those who came to help, it really was appreciated. Don't worry if you are disappointed to have missed it, we saved you some trees which still need a haircut

Easter Appeal

Once again people in the village gave generously to Quy church appeal and £1435 has so far been raised. We do appreciate that so many villagers are prepared to help keep their church alive. There is no doubt that it could not be there for you without your generosity. Thank you again for your support.

Quy PCC are always open to suggestions from anyone with regard to services and events held within our church. We have recently created an area within the church especially for children and we are keen for it now to be used. The church also has a newly refurbished kitchen area. If you or anyone you know has any ideas on how these areas can be utilised please let us know. We have a beautiful building available so let us start using it more in every way we can.

Rogation Sunday

On Sunday 10th May our Rogation Service was once again held in Bill's Orchard on a lovely sunny afternoon. The service was combined with a pet service and we had 6 dogs which Sue Giles blessed during the service. They were all well behaved even though some were very keen to greet their fellow canines. We were also joined by a few who were new to our congregation and it was lovely to chat with them in the sunshine after the service whilst enjoying the tea, cake and biscuits. We also had the pleasing sight of a war time bomber which circled the proceedings several times.

Coffee Mornings

You are welcome to the Coffee Mornings held every Tuesday 10.30am to 12noon in the Village Hall Annex. Come and join us to meet up with friends, make new friends and enjoy a chat and a cup of coffee with cake and biscuits.

Annual Church Fete – 18th July 2015

The church fete will be held on Saturday 18th July 2015 in Bill's Orchard. Maureen Norden 01223 811942 will be pleased to hear from anyone willing to help on the day as well as offers of any items for the various stalls such as bric-a-brac; raffle, cakes etc. Help will also be appreciated to put up tents and stalls on Friday 17th July

Harvest Festival

Sept 27th 3.00pm There will be a village show in the church on Sat Sept 26th, which we hope you will attend and enter items for the various classes. These entries and other exhibits will be on display for the Harvest Festival next day. The Harvest festival will be followed by refreshments.
